Notice Concerning Impact of Typhoon Faxai (2nd Report)

RENOVA, Inc. expresses its support and solidarity towards those who have recently been impacted by Typhoon Faxai. We would like to announce the release of a 2nd report, following the “Notice Concerning Impact of Typhoon Faxai,” which was released on September 9, 2019.

Futtsu Solar Power Plant (Futtsu, Chiba Prefecture; generation capacity of 40.4 MW) today has recovered from the power failure, restarted all the power conditioner systems, and resumed transmission of electricity because the TEPCO Power Grid, Inc. power grid, which is connected to the power plant, has partially recovered. Though the power plant did not transmit electricity on September 9 or 10, 2019, it is expected that part of the lost profits arising from the suspension of electricity transmission will be covered by the damage insurance carried by Futtsu Solar Co., Ltd.

This suspension of electricity transmission will have a minor impact on the consolidated performance for this fiscal year (fiscal year ending in March 2020).

In the process of setting planned full-year figures for electricity sales, RENOVA takes into account risks arising from continual rains and other climate events. The recent suspension of electricity transmission is within this predicted range.
