TechnoPro Named 2020 Certified Health and Productivity Management Outstanding Organization (Large Enterprise Category)

On March 2, 2020, TechnoPro Holdings, Inc. was named a 2020 Certified Health and Productivity Management Outstanding Organization (Large Enterprise Category). The recognition is a joint certification given by the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry and Nippon Kenko Kaigi (health promotion organization).

Health and Productivity Management Outstanding Organizations are those enterprises, large or small, who engage in notable initiatives that address regional health issues and health promotion measures recommended by the Nippon Kenko Kaigi.

The TechnoPro Group believes that employee health is an important business resource and the source of corporate vitality. Based on this belief, the group engages in health management and implements measures to promote employee health.

The TechnoPro Group intends to continue engaging in health management initiatives, unified in the pursuit of greater organizational and individual activity, productivity, and creativity.
