Health Management refers to corporate strategic efforts to maintain and promote the health of employees, from a managerial perspective[*1], while the Outstanding Organizations of KENKO Investment for Health Program recognizes corporations that consider employee health management from a managerial perspective, based on initiatives in line with local health issues and health promotion initiatives by Nippon Kenko Kaigi.

In March 2023, Macnica formulated a Declaration of Health & Productivity Management[*2] under the supervision of the Health Management Officer, and the Human Resources Division of Macnica Inc., an operating company, began promoting Health Management in cooperation with the Japan Health Insurance Association and the General Affairs Planning Department. This year, Macnica was again recognized as an Outstanding Organization of KENKO Investment for Health, its second consecutive year. Even before promoting KENKO Investment for Health, Macnica regarded 'employee well-being and growth' as a key objective for corporate management and created an 'open and fair corporate culture where people can work with satisfaction and pride, based on the ideas that 'a company begins and ends with its people' and 'a company is all about its people.' Now, through health management, Macnica continues to create an environment where 'employee engagement is enhanced, and each and every employee can continue to maximize their abilities and take on challenges in a 'Bright, Fun, and Vibrant' physically and mentally healthy manner.

We will continue to strive for sustainable growth as a company, as stated in our Purpose: 'Envision the future, creating the present', and further strengthen and promote health management aimed at enhancing corporate value, as the health of our employees is essential for our sustainable growth as a company.
