The Company operates a recruitment business specializing in professional fields, including consulting firms. Since its founding, the Company has built its strengths on deep knowledge of the consulting industry and medium- to long-term career support tailored to each individual candidate.

In recent years, as companies have faced increasingly sophisticated management challenges and as the importance of DX promotion, AI utilization, business transformation, M&A, and human capital management has continued to grow, recruitment needs for professional talent, including talent for consulting firms, have remained firm. Under this market environment, the Company has created truly valuable encounters for both companies and talent by connecting the advanced talent needs of hiring companies with the career development of professional talent.

Going forward, the Company will continue working to hire and develop career advisors, strengthen database marketing, utilize technology including generative AI, and further enhance its expertise in the professional talent domain.
In addition, the Company aims to evolve beyond a conventional recruitment agency into a "lifelong career hub" that professional talent can rely on at every stage of their careers, and will continue contributing to the resolution of social issues through the appropriate placement of human resources.
