Highlights

In June, same store sales for Skylark increased by 1.0 % year-on-year. This increase was achieved despite having one less weekend day and worse weather than last June. Skylark has achieved year-on-year increase in same store sales in 11 of the past 12 months and for 8 consecutive quarters.

In June, the average check continued to rise as customers chose to order higher-priced items and increased orders of side menu items, desserts and drink bar/beverage options. During the month, Skylark successfully tested and implemented a number of beer and happy hour-related promotions. Strong results were achieved through Gusto's ¥399 cheese-IN-Hamburg steak promotion, Jonathan's' Agu Okinawan pork and Angus beef Hamburg steak and Bamiyan's limited-time offer Sichuan menu. Strong menu innovation and promotion continue to be key differentiators for Skylark.

Skylark will continue to increase overall customer satisfaction through its efforts in store remodeling, customer service improvement and menu innovation.

Changes in the definition of "Same Store"

From the Jan 2015 IR report, the definition of "same store" has been changed as follows:

- While same store was previously defined as a store which had been open for 18 months or longer, the period has been changed to 13 months or longer, which is the standard within the industry.
- Previously customer traffic did not include traffic from the delivery business. However, in consideration of the increasing impact of the delivery business on sales and customer traffic, we now include traffic from delivery business in customer traffic. The definition is as follows:

  * Customer traffic from delivery = Delivery sales / Average check
- Previously same store sales did not include stores which underwent brand conversion. However, converted stores are now being added to the category of same store sales as conversion is one of our key initiatives for traffic growth.
