(Progress of Previously Disclosed Matter) Notice Concerning Completion of the Additional Acquisition of Shares in an Equity-Method Affiliate (to Make It a Consolidated Subsidiary)

As announced in the "Notice Concerning Additional Acquisition of Shares in an Equity-Method Affiliate (to Make It a Consolidated Subsidiary)" dated March 31, 2026, ANRITSU CORPORATION (the "Company") has been proceeding with the procedures to acquire additional shares of SmartViser SAS (headquartered in Rennes, France; "SmartViser") and make it a consolidated subsidiary. The Company hereby announces that the share transfer procedures were completed on October 27, 2026, and SmartViser has become a consolidated subsidiary of the Company.

1. Purpose of the Share Acquisition

SmartViser provides automated testing solutions to mobile network operators, device manufacturers, and others. Its business includes performance evaluation of mobile networks and devices, functional testing, quality monitoring, and compliance with EU smartphone energy labelling regulations (EEI — Energy Efficiency Index).

In March 2025, the Company acquired a 32.72% share in SmartViser and has since engaged in collaboration with SmartViser while maintaining each company's operational independence.

By making SmartViser a consolidated subsidiary, the Company will be able to combine SmartViser's expertise in test automation and efficiency-related technologies with the Company's advanced test solutions in the telecommunications field. This is expected to expand business opportunities not only in the smartphone market, but also across a wide range of industries utilizing communications technologies, including private networks, mission-critical networks, and the automotive sector. Through this initiative, the Company aims to contribute to the realization of a carbon-neutral and smart society.
