The Entertainment Business is responsible primarily for the development and operation of games for smartphones.

Although the Group focused on operating services to increase user engagement, sales of existing titles declined. In addition, some titles were discontinued.

The PC version of the new blockchain game "Brilliantcrypto" was released and the Initial Exchange Offering (IEO) (Note) of "Brilliantcrypto Token (BRIL)", a cryptocurrency that can be used in the game, was conducted. The funds raised through the IEO will be gradually recognized in Net sales as BRIL is used in the game, but upfront development and marketing costs and one-time costs associated with the IEO have been incurred.
