FINDEX Named to TIME's "World's Best Companies in Sustainable Growth 2026"

FINDEX Inc. (Head Office: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo; President & CEO: Teruo Aihara; hereinafter "the Company") is pleased to announce that it has been named to the "TIME World's Best Companies in Sustainable Growth 2026", jointly selected by TIME Magazine (U.S.) and global market research firm Statista.

The "World's Best Companies in Sustainable Growth 2026" is a prestigious global ranking that evaluates companies disclosing environmental data worldwide, assessing both sustainability and financial soundness. Companies are evaluated across three key dimensions:

1. Revenue Growth	Strong revenue growth relative to industry peers
2. Financial Stability	Robust financial health (based on metrics such as Piotroski F-Score and Altman Z-Score)
3. Environmental Impact	Low carbon emissions (Scopes 1, 2, and 3), reduced water consumption and waste generation, and high levels of renewable energy utilization

Based on these criteria, the Company was recognized for its continuous business growth and responsible environmental initiatives, earning a position among the top 500 companies worldwide. Notably, only a small number of companies from the healthtech sector were included in the ranking, making our selection particularly distinguished.

This recognition affirms the Company's long-standing management philosophy—"Enriching society through technologies and creation"—and demonstrates that our efforts to simultaneously achieve business growth and contribute to a sustainable society have been acknowledged on a global scale. We view this award as a meaningful validation of the soundness of our management strategy.

Going forward, the Company will utilize this honor as encouragement to further enhance corporate value, continue contributing to the realization of a sustainable society through our business activities, and meet the expectations of all our stakeholders while maintaining a solid financial foundation.
