This is the fourth consecutive year that we have been certified.

Certified as a “KENKO Investment for Health 2025 (Large Corporation Category)

Based on our management philosophy of “continuing to protect our customers' important lives with insurance”, we made a “Health Declaration” in 2021 and have been promoting the management of the physical and mental health of our employees and the creation of a comfortable working environment.

In order to help our employees achieve a better work-life balance, we have introduced a system for teleworking professionals, and in 2024 we will be expanding the staggered work hours system for office-based employees, as we work to improve the work-life balance of our employees. In the “work-life balance” section of the company-wide survey conducted in July 2024, 70% of employees responded that they were “achieving a good balance” or “achieving a fair balance” between work and private life.

We are also continuing to create a healthy working environment through various training programs and information dissemination, including mental health measures.

We will continue to actively support the health of our employees and their families through a variety of measures.

<Initiatives for employee health management, maintenance and improvement>

・Expansion of staggered work hours system

・Implementation of self-care and line-care training (mental health measures)

・Implementation of stress checks at offices nationwide

・Implementation of health seminars
