3. Reasons for Acquisition and Cancellation
The Company originally issued the Stock Acquisition Rights to secure funds for investing in growth sectors and for the repayment of borrowings. As of today, a total of 43,578 units of the Stock Acquisition Rights have been exercised, raising approximately 1,500 million yen.
However, after a comprehensive review taking into account subsequent market trends, the stock price level, and the exercise performance to date, the Company has re-evaluated its capital policy. While a certain level of exercise remained possible in the future, the Company determined that minimizing dilution for existing shareholders and improving the supply-demand balance of the stock would best serve the Company's overall capital policy. Therefore, in accordance with the provisions of the third-party allotment agreement concerning the Stock Acquisition Rights, the Company has decided to notify the allottee of the acquisition demand, acquire all unexercised Stock Acquisition Rights, and subsequently cancel them.

4. Future Outlook
The impact of this acquisition and cancellation of the Stock Acquisition Rights on the Company's financial results for the current fiscal year will be minimal.
