Dexerials Corporation is a functional materials manufacturer specializing in the development, manufacture and sale of electronic components, bonding materials and optical materials. The Group includes subsidiaries engaged in the development and manufacture of photonics products, such as optical semiconductors, and it is committed to achieving sustainable growth and enhancing corporate value.
In the automotive field, Dexerials launched its business in earnest in 2016, and it has since expanded sales, particularly sales of products aligned with design trends such as larger and curved in-vehicle displays. The automotive sector is also positioned as a key growth area in its current medium-term management plan, and in recent years, Dexerials has been focusing on the development of sensing-related products that support autonomous driving technologies.

At this exhibition, Dexerials will showcase materials and process technologies specialized for the automotive sector at its booth (No. 331). Dexerials will present its latest solutions, centering on newly developed items being exhibited for the first time at a domestic exhibition. Details are as follows:
