Dexerials Publishes Dexerials Integrated Report 2026

Dexerials Corporation (Headquarters: Shimotsuke-shi, Tochigi and Chuo-ku, Tokyo, Japan; Representative Director and President: Yoshihisa Shinya; hereinafter, “Dexerials”) announces that it has published Dexerials Integrated Report 2026 (https://www.dexerials.jp/sustainability/download/index.html, hereinafter the “Report”) on its corporate website. The English version is scheduled to be published in late December.

Dexerials Integrated Report 2026

Since 2019, Dexerials has published integrated reports aiming to give all of its stakeholders, including shareholders and investors, greater insight into the Company.

Currently, under the Mid-Term Management Plan 2028, Achieving Evolution, Dexerials is transforming its business portfolio and strengthening its management foundations. In this Report, starting with the growth strategy and direction for the business portfolio presented in the Mid-Term Management Plan Updates announced in May 2026, Dexerials illustrates its path toward sustainable growth, looking ahead to the next mid-term management plan.

Dexerials Integrated Report 2026 looks ahead to the next stage of growth through the expansion of the Photonics business, a growth domain, and details the challenge of realizing photoelectric fusion solutions in the future. The Report also covers the Company's journey from the creation of the Photonics business to the growth of business, as well as its approach to value creation through collaboration among the people responsible for each phase, from exploration to commercialization.

In addition, the Report explains how the Dexerials is expanding its business model, which is centered on Design-in and Spec-in and serves as a source of competitive advantage, into growth domains, and outlines the direction of new value creation driven by the Company’s strengths in Technology and Human Capital.

Through this Report, Dexerials aims to deepen its dialogue with stakeholders. Moreover, guided by its Purpose, "Empower Evolution. Connect People and Technology," Dexerials aspires to contribute to a sustainable society, achieve sustainable growth, and further enhance corporate value.

About Dexerials Integrated Report 2026
