Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (Year ended March 31, 2017)

Notes to Basic Significant Matters Regarding Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements

1. Subsidiaries and equity accounted investees

(1) Subsidiaries 268
Mitsui Oil Exploration Co., Ltd., Mitsui Iron Ore Development Pty. Ltd., Mitsui-Itochu Iron Pty. Ltd., Mitsui Sakhalin Holdings B.V., Novus International, Inc., and others

(2) Equity accounted investees (associated companies and joint ventures) 201
Japan Australia LNG (MIMI) Pty. Ltd., Valepar S.A., P.T. Paiton Energy, and others

A total of 360 subsidiaries and equity accounted investees are excluded from the above. These include companies which are sub-consolidated or accounted for under the equity method by subsidiaries other than trading subsidiaries.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(1) Basis of consolidated financial statements
The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the basis of International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs"), in compliance with Article 120, paragraph 1 of the Ordinance on Company Accounting. In accordance with the provision of the paragraph, certain disclosures required on the basis of IFRSs have been omitted.

(2) Valuation basis and method for assets

① Valuation basis and method for financial assets
The Company and its subsidiaries (collectively, the "companies") apply IFRS 9 "Financial Instruments" (revised in November 2013).

Financial assets measured at amortized cost

Non-derivative financial assets that are debt instruments are initially measured at fair value if they are held within a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows and have contractual terms which give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. Subsequently, the carrying amount of the financial assets measured at amortized cost is calculated using the effective interest method. Impairment losses are measured by using the present value of expected future cash flows, discounted at the effective interest rate based on the original terms of the contract, or at fair value of the collateral if their value depends on the collateral and comparing the resulting value to the carrying value of the financial asset with the difference between recognized in profit (loss) for the year.

Financial assets which are measured at fair value through profit (loss) for the year ("FVTPL")

Equity financial instruments (except FVTOCI) and non-derivative financial assets that do not satisfy the requirements to be measured at amortized cost are initially measured at fair value. Subsequently, they are measured at their fair value, and gains and losses arising from changes in fair value are recognized in profit (loss) for the year.

Financial assets which are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI")

For certain equity financial instruments held primarily for the purpose of enhancing the revenue base by maintaining or strengthening the trade relationship with the investees, the companies at initial recognition measure these instruments at fair value. Subsequently, they are measured at their fair value, and gains and losses arising from changes in fair value are recognized in other comprehensive income.

When financial assets measured at FVTOCI are derecognized, the accumulated other components of equity are directly reclassified to retained earnings without being recognized in profit (loss) for the year. Dividend income received on financial assets measured at FVTOCI is mainly recognized in profit (loss) for the year.

② Valuation basis and method for inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. The costs of inventory of items that are not ordinarily interchangeable are assigned by using specific identification of their individual costs. For those items which are interchangeable, the costs are mainly assigned by using the weighted-average cost formula. Inventories acquired with the purpose of being sold in the near term to profit from fluctuations in price are measured at fair value less costs to sell, and changes in the fair value less costs to sell are recognized in profit (loss) for the year.

③ Valuation basis, method, depreciation and amortization for property, plant and equipment, investment property and intangible assets

Property, plant and equipment and investment property

Property, plant and equipment and investment property are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Depreciation of property, plant and equipment and investment property is computed principally under the straight-line method. Mineral rights are primarily amortized using the unit-of-production method.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets with finite estimated useful lives are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses.

Depreciation of intangible assets is computed principally under the straight-line method.

Goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite estimated useful lives are not amortized and are presented at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

Impairment of property, plant and equipment, investment property and intangible assets

Property, plant and equipment, investment property and intangible assets are assessed to determine whether there is any indication of impairment at respective reporting date. If any such indications exist, the recoverable amounts of these assets are estimated. Goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment annually. Where the carrying amount of an asset or a cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and the carrying amount is written down to its recoverable amount with impairment loss recognized in profit (loss) for the year.

For assets other than goodwill, an assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication of impairment that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If any such indications exist, the recoverable amounts of these assets are estimated. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed as income to the extent that the increased carrying amount of an asset does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of amortization or depreciation) had no impairment loss recognized for the asset in prior years. An impairment loss recognized for goodwill is not reversed.

(3) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the companies have a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that outflows of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and reliable estimates of the amount of the obligations can be made. Provisions are measured as the best estimate of the amount of expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted to their present value using a pretax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognized as finance costs.

(4) Employee benefits

The Company and certain subsidiaries have defined benefit pension plans and severance indemnity plans. The costs of defined benefit pension plans and severance indemnity plans are accrued based on amounts determined using actuarial procedures based on the projected unit credit method. The Company and certain subsidiaries recognize the overfunded or underfunded status of a defined benefit plan as an asset or a liability in the consolidated statements of financial position. The remeasurements of defined benefit pension plans are recognized immediately in other components of equity in equity and are transferred to retained earnings on recognition. The Company and certain subsidiaries also have defined contribution pension plans. Payments to defined contribution pension plans are recognized as an expense when employees have rendered service.

(5) Foreign currency translation

The assets and liabilities of foreign subsidiaries and equity accounted investees are translated into Japanese yen using the spot exchange rate at the respective reporting date. All income and expense accounts are translated into Japanese yen using average rates of exchange for the respective reporting period. The resulting translation adjustments are recognized in other components of equity.
Foreign currency transactions are translated into functional currencies of individual companies using the spot exchange rate at the date of transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary assets and liabilities, and non-monetary assets and liabilities measured at fair value denominated in foreign currencies are translated into functional currencies using the spot exchange rate at the reporting date and exchange differences arising from translation are recognized in profit (loss) for the year. Non-monetary items measured at historical cost denominated in foreign currencies are translated using the spot exchange rate at the date of transaction.

(6) All transactions are accounted for net of national and/or regional consumption taxes.

Financial Instruments

1. General information

The companies' basic funding policy is to secure liquidity required for their smooth operations and to maintain the strength and soundness of the statement of financial position. In order to achieve their objectives, their principal strategy is to obtain long-term funds from financial institutions and through the issuance of corporate bonds. In addition, the companies hold sufficient cash and highly-liquid short-term financial instruments in order to maintain liquidity to flexibly meet capital requirements and to minimize the harmful effect of the deteriorated financial market on future debt-service requirements.

Credit risk associated with notes and accounts receivable is managed through approvals of credit lines by management and monitoring counterparty's operations continuously.
Other investments mainly consisting of financial assets measured at FVTOCI are measured at fair value on a quarterly basis.
The companies are exposed to market risks related to foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates and commodity prices in the ordinary course of business. In order to offset or reduce these risks, the companies use various derivative instruments.

The companies have strictly separated the trading sections from the sections that record the results and positions of derivative instruments. Executive officers in charge of risk management assess derivative instruments and the market risks surrounding these instruments, and establish the companies' risk management policy, based on comprehensive evaluation and analysis periodically reported from independent risk management sections.

2. Fair value of financial instruments

The following table presents the carrying amount and fair value of financial instruments included within the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position as of March 31, 2017. The fair values of current financial assets and current financial liabilities are not disclosed because the carrying amounts are approximately the same as its fair values.

(Unit: Millions of Yen)

	March 31, 2017
	Carrying amount	Fair value	Difference
Financial Assets
Non-current Assets
Other investments	1,337,164	1,337,164	—
Trade and other receivables and Other financial assets (*)	622,422	622,943	521
Financial Liabilities
Non-current Liabilities
Long-term debts, less current portion and Other financial liabilities (*)	4,219,963	4,317,549	97,586

(*)The fair values of Other financial assets and Other financial liabilities approximate their respective carrying amounts. Trade and other receivables include loans receivable. Long-term debt, less current portion includes borrowings and bonds.

Derivative assets and derivative liabilities are included in current and non-current Other financial assets and Other financial liabilities, respectively. These are measured at fair value and their carrying amounts are ¥200,087 million and ¥143,597 million, respectively.

(1) Other investments

Publicly-traded other investments are measured using quoted market prices. Non-marketable other investments are measured at fair value principally using the discounted cash flow method, the market comparison approach and other appropriate valuation techniques considering various assumptions, including expected future cash flows and discount rates reflecting the related risks of the investee.
The carrying amount of the investments, included in Other investments, increased by ¥90,967 million. The main reason is the fair value in investments in LNG projects rose reflecting the cost deduction and updates in discount rates for the year ended March 31, 2017.

(2) Trade and other receivables and Long-term debt, less current portion

The fair values of non-current receivables with floating rates, including long-term loans receivable, and long-term debt with floating rates approximately equal their respective carrying amounts. The fair values of non-current receivables with fixed rates and long-term debt with fixed rates are estimated by discounted cash flow analysis, using interest rates currently available for similar types of loans, accounts receivable and borrowings with similar terms and remaining maturities.

(3) Other financial assets and liabilities

Derivative financial instruments are mainly measured by discounted cash flow analysis using foreign exchange and interest rates or quoted prices currently available for similar types of agreements. Exchange-traded derivative commodity instruments are measured using quoted market prices. Certain derivative commodity instruments are measured using the quoted prices obtained from the market, financial information providers, and brokers.

Notes to Investment Property

1. Status of investment property

The Company and certain subsidiaries own rental office buildings and rental commercial facilities in Tokyo and other areas.

2. Fair value of investment property

The carrying amount of investment property as of March 31, 2017 was ¥179,789 million and the fair value of investment property was ¥385,203 million.

The fair value of investment property as of March 31, 2016 is based on a valuation conducted by independent valuation appraisers who have recent experience in the locations and categories of the investment property being valued, and have the appropriate and recognized professional qualifications (such as a registered appraiser). The valuation is based on inputs such as estimated rents and discount rates using primarily the income approach and conforms to the standards of the country where the investment property is located.

Significant Accounting Policies

1. Securities are classified and accounted for as follows:
   Trading securities, whose costs of sales are determined by the moving-average method, are stated at market value. Held-to-maturity debt securities are stated at amortized cost, determined by the straight-line method.
   Investments in subsidiaries and associated companies are stated at cost, determined by the moving-average method.
   Marketable available-for-sale securities, whose costs of sales are determined by the moving-average method, are reported at market value at year-end, with unrealized gains and losses reported in a separate component of equity.
   Non-marketable available-for-sale securities are stated at cost, determined by the moving-average method.
   Except for trading securities, those securities whose market value or equity in net assets is materially lower than carrying value on and around the balance sheet date are devaluated after determining whether the value could be recoverable.

2. Derivatives are stated at fair value.

3. Inventories are stated at cost. Cost is determined principally by the specific identification method and, for certain items, by the moving-average method or the first-in, first-out method. The balance sheet amount is calculated by reducing book value when the contribution of inventories to profitability declines.
   Inventories for trading purpose are stated at market value.

4. Depreciation of tangible fixed assets is computed using the declining-balance method. Depreciation of buildings (excluding equipment and fixtures) acquired on or after April 1, 1998 and depreciation of equipment and fixtures and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016, are computed using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives for the majority of tangible fixed assets are as follows: Leased-out Property: 3-50 years; Buildings and Structures: 3-50 years.
   Depreciation of intangible fixed assets is computed using the straight-line method. Software for the Company's own use is amortized based on the straight-line method over the period it can be used (five years mainly).

   Leased assets are included in their fixed asset category and are depreciated using the straight-line method over the lease period.

5. To provide for possible losses on collection, the allowance for doubtful receivables that is set aside for receivables in general is computed using the actual ratio of bad debts. For certain receivables, the amount deemed unrecoverable is set aside in the allowance on an individual basis.

   The liability for retirement benefits is recorded based on projected benefit obligations and plan assets at the balance sheet date of the Corporate Pension Fund plan and other retirement benefit plans. Estimated retirement benefits are attributed to periods of service under the plan's benefit formula.Unrecognized prior service cost is amortized over seven years from the date of the revision of the pension plan, which is shorter than the average remaining service period of employees. The unrecognized actuarial gain or loss that arose in the current year is amortized over seven years starting with the following fiscal year, which is shorter than the average remaining service period of employees.
   The difference between projected benefit obligations, after deducting the portion corresponding to unrecognized actuarial gain or loss and unrecognized prior service cost, and plan assets is recorded as the liability for retirement benefits or long-term prepaid expense in the balance sheet.

To provide for contingent losses on the obligation for guarantees and commitments to subsidiaries and others, a certain amount is set aside as deemed necessary, considering the financial condition of the primary obligor.

6. Receivables and Payables denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Japanese yen at year-end exchange rates on the balance sheet date. The foreign exchange gains and losses from translation are recognized in the income statement.

7. For derivatives which meet hedge accounting criteria, except for available-for-sale securities, gains or losses on derivatives are deferred until realization of the hedged items. For derivatives which meet hedge accounting criteria for available-for-sale securities, fair value hedge accounting is applied. Foreign currency forward exchange contracts to hedge monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are stated at fair value and accounted for under the principle method of the Accounting Standards for Financial Instruments. The interest rate swaps which qualify for hedge accounting and meet specific matching criteria are not re-measured at market value, but the differential paid or received under the swap agreements is recognized on an accrual basis and included in interest expense or income.

   The Company enters into derivative financial instrument transactions such as foreign exchange forward contracts and foreign currency borrowings to hedge foreign exchange risk associated with monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, net investments in foreign operations and forward contracts of trade. The Company also enters into derivative financial instrument transactions such as interest rate swap to hedge interest rate risk in the course of business activities. As for market risk, the Company enters into derivative financial instrument transactions such as commodity future, forward to hedge market risk of commodities and trading contracts.

   Apart from trading transaction risks, market volatility risks related to foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates and commodity prices in the ordinary course of business are hedged using derivative financial instruments and foreign currency borrowings, considering the specific risk characteristics based on internal risk control policies.

   The effectiveness between the hedging instruments and the hedged items is evaluated considering individual transaction characteristics.

8. All transactions are accounted for net of national and/or regional consumption taxes.
   The consolidated taxation system has been applied.
