Business update

KARTE domain

Launched marketing automation product "KARTE Message"

- Launched a beta version of KARTE Message, KARTE's marketing automation product engaged in communication with users off-line from customers' own services through email, mobile app push notification, SMS or LINE by a newly developed customer journey design function
- With high needs from existing customers, this products would contribute to creating cross-selling opportunities as well as better retentions

Major Companies

Facilitate next steps for improvement by drawing scenarios starting from the user's experience, and by overlooking the user's activities on the canvas
