■ Service Background

Alpha Techno has provided comprehensive solution services for various office problems since before. Some of the customers commented that even if they had “office problems” all together, they didn’t overlap with their own specific problems, and it was difficult to understand. This led to the launch of the “OMAKASE.COM Series,” a series of specialized websites focusing on niche needs such as “office move,” “partition construction and moving,” and “floor construction,” to develop services that better fit the detailed needs of construction projects. We have received great reactions from customers, are appreciated by those in a hurry because of our free on-site surveys and same-day estimates.

Similarly, “DENKI-KOJI OMAKASE.COM” provides services specializing in small-scale electrical work needs for offices and stores, such as “Lack of OA taps and power supplies due to increase in number of employees” and “Lack of phone and LAN,” with free on-site surveys and same-day estimates. In addition, we can provide safe and secure construction proposals by qualified electricians.

Now that we have a nationwide system has been established, we will be expanding the service in earnest on our service website.

Vision Group will continue to strive to provide satisfactory services based on customer feedback.
