Notice Regarding the Impact of U.S. Tariff Policies on Our Company and Consolidated Subsidiaries

SOURCENEXT CORPORATION (Headquarters: Minato-ku, Tokyo; President and COO: Tomoaki Kojima) hereby announces the following regarding the future impact of reciprocal tariff measures announced by the U.S. government.

1. Overview

Pocketalk Corporation, a consolidated subsidiary, develops and sells "POCKETALK," which is manufactured in Shenzhen, China. However, the inventory for one year of " POCKETALK " sales in the U.S. has already been shipped to the U.S. before the transition to the Trump administration. Therefore, we assume that the sales for this year will not be affected by the tariffs that will take effect from the 9th.

2. Future Outlook

Given the ongoing uncertainty in the global economy due to U.S. tariff policies and other factors, our group will continue to closely monitor global market trends and respond flexibly and swiftly. Additionally, if it becomes clear that there will be a significant impact on our business performance, we will promptly disclose such information.
