JDI to Participate in WELL-BEING TECHNOLOGY 2025
~ Exhibiting ZINNSIA, an Interface that transforms the surfaces of a broad range of materials into sensors and touch panels, and Virgo, a Self-care Health Monitoring Service ~

JDI will participate in the upcoming WELL-BEING TECHNOLOGY 2025 to be held at Tokyo Big Sight from January 29 to 31, 2025. JDI will showcase ZINNSIA, an interface that transforms the surfaces of a broad range of materials into sensors and touch panels, along with Virgo, a self-care health monitoring service. WELL-BEING TECHNOLOGY is an exhibition featuring products and services contributing to well-being, an area expected to gain increased attention as consumption behaviors, work styles, and values continue to diversify.

JDI has launched its BEYOND DISPLAY business strategy to channel JDI's world-leading technology into new high-growth fields. We are particularly committed to the development of sensors that deploy JDI's world-leading display technology capabilities. Via ZINNSIA and Virgo and their compelling value for users and consumers globally, JDI is entering a wide variety of new markets and products.
