The corporate governance of J-OIL MILLS, Inc. (the "Company") is described below.

I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance, Capital Structure, Corporate Profile and Other Basic Information

1. Basic Views

The Company is working to enhance its corporate governance, seeking to realize honest and transparent management that wins the trust of its stakeholders, while striving to enhance its internal control to improve the efficiency of the corporate governance.

[Reasons for Non-compliance with the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code]

The Company has implemented all of the principles established in the Code. Please refer to the Corporate Governance Code Implementation Status Table at the end of this document.

[Disclosure Based on the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code] UPDATED

[Principle 1.3] (Basic Strategy for Capital Policy)
The Company will build an optimal capital structure that is appropriate for the Company Group's business structure and work to improve the profitability of capital, by recognizing the cost of capital as the profitability to be achieved and setting targets for ROE and ROIC as key management indicators, based on an understanding of the cost of the capital toward the enhancement of corporate value.
With regard to dividends, our policy is to allocate cash flow generated through earnings expansion to investment for growth, and at the same time, add DOE as a new indicator, in addition to the conventional dividend payout ratio, while transitioning to stable dividends targeting a 3% yield in the medium-term, and returning the fruits of profit growth and the improvement of capital efficiency to our shareholders.

[Principle 1.4] (Cross-Shareholdings)
The Company Group has positioned the "improvement of asset efficiency" as an important issue in its Sixth Medium-Term Business Plan, and has a policy to reduce cross-shareholdings by half and allocate them to investments for growth during this Term.
We will hold the minimum amount of shares only when they are deemed to contribute to our sustainable growth and enhancement of our corporate value. In determining whether or not to hold such shares, the significance of holding for individual share-holdings is confirmed from multiple and comprehensive perspectives, including the perspectives of transactional relationships and business significance. We also conduct quantitative reviews of whether the benefits and risks of holding such shares are commensurate with capital costs. Based on the results thereof, the Board of Directors conducts a review once a year and comprehensively arrives at a decision on whether or not to hold such shares. For those shares whose significance of holding has been determined to be diminished, we have been proceeding with the sale after obtaining the business partner's understanding. In addition, even if the significance of holding shares is recognized, we may sell them in accordance with the basic policy of reducing cross-shareholdings, taking into consideration the market environment, management and financial strategies, and other factors. In FY2025, the Company sold six of its cross-shareholdings (amount of sale: 1,608 million yen), and of these, three were sold in their entirety.

With respect to the exercise of voting rights for cross-shareholdings, the Company exercises voting rights based on the premise that the shares will contribute to the enhancement of the Company's corporate value, and by making a comprehensive judgment as to whether the exercise of voting rights will contribute to the sustainable growth and medium- to long-term corporate value of the investee company. Specifically, the following criteria will be established and individual approval or disapproval will be determined.

- Quantitative evaluation: Safety, profitability, business performance, dividend payout ratio, risk of impairment due to falling stock prices, etc.
- Qualitative evaluation: Significant subsequent events, notes on the premise of a going concern, unusual opinions of the Accounting Auditor, material illegal or anti-social acts, etc.

[Principle 1.7] (Related Party Transactions)
In the event that a Director engages in a competitive transaction or a transaction with a conflict of interest as defined in the Companies Act, the Company shall approve the transaction at a meeting of the Board of Directors in accordance with the "Board of Directors Regulations" and report the results to the Board of Directors.
In addition, transactions with major shareholders, etc., are carried out after necessary approval in accordance with the "Board of Directors Regulations" and "Approval Rules" depending on the size and importance of the transaction.
In this way, we monitor the appropriateness of the terms and conditions of transactions with related parties and prevent them from harming the common interests of the Company and its shareholders.

[Supplementary Principle 2.4.1] (Ensuring Diversity)
1. Approach to ensuring diversity
The Company Group promotes diversity, equity, and inclusion in its human resources, work styles, and employment. In FY2022, we established the DE&I Promotion Office, a dedicated department. In the Sixth Medium-Term Business Plan, we will pursue the existence values of our corporate philosophy system of "Work together to achieve high targets and exceed expectations," and further promote diversity through measures for women, male childcare, LGBTQ+, seniors, diversity within individuals, mid-career hires, people with disabilities, foreign nationals, and others.

2. Voluntary and measurable goals for ensuring diversity

- Changes in the ratio of women in management positions (on a non-consolidated basis)
  FY2019: 5.7% FY2020: 6.0% FY2021: 6.0% FY2022: 6.3% FY2023: 7.0% FY2024: 8.1%
  FY2025: 9.2% FY2026 (target): 10.0% FY2030 (target): 20.0%
- We will maintain the ratio of women in the newly hired regular employees at 40% or more (on a non-consolidated basis).
- The number of professional hires (mid-career hires) are increasing year by year. The percentage of mid-career hires out of total employees was approximately 25% (on a non-consolidated basis) as of April 2026. In FY2026, we will continue to accelerate our growth areas by securing human resources including talent with high expertise in accordance with our strategy.
- As of the end of March 2026, six employees (on a non-consolidated basis) are foreign nationals. We expect to continue hiring talented people and promoting them to management positions regardless of their nationality.

3. Status of ensuring diversity
As mentioned above, the number of women in management positions is increasing every year. We have been aggressively hiring women as regular employees: In FY2025, over 50% (on a non-consolidated basis) of the new graduates hired were women.

4. Human resource development policies and internal environment policies to ensure diversity

For female employees to take active roles, we conduct career training sessions for young female employees, mentor training courses for female managers and general employees, and follow-up training for the Third Women's Management Classes. In addition, unconscious bias training for executives and line managers, which goes into the awareness and attitude of not only female employees but also their superiors and colleagues, and dialogue sessions on male childcare support were conducted. Furthermore, we have put in place an internal environment that supports flexible work styles by providing programs such as a flextime system without core time, hourly paid leave, teleworking, and satellite offices. Currently, with diversity as the keyword, project members participate in a wide range of activities, expanding the theme to include diversity within individuals and the participation of seniors and people with disabilities in addition to the participation of women.
The Company Group promotes the use of childcare leave by men, and issued a declaration of men's active participation in childcare in FY2022. In FY2023, we established an education system for managers toward male employee's participation in childcare and a special leave system to support childcare. The number of men taking childcare leave in the sales and production divisions has been increasing. 103.7% (on a non-consolidated basis) of all eligible male employees have used childcare leave as of March 2026. Going forward, we plan to further expand the acquisition of leave to create a more comfortable working environment.
*The paternity leave usage rate for promoting male participation in childcare is calculated using the formula, "Employees taking childcare leave, etc. / employees whose spouse had a child born in that year x 100." In cases where a male employee whose spouse had a child born in the previous year takes childcare leave, etc., in that year, the rate of leave usage may exceed 100%.
Furthermore, through the post-retirement reemployment system, we are preparing a working environment for employees over the age of 60.

The Company determines the treatment of its professional hires according to their expertise and abilities. We will work to ensure that the strengths of the characteristics of human resources with different backbones lead to inclusion through employees, regardless in management or general positions, playing active roles in variety of areas.

[Principle 2.6] (Roles of Corporate Pension Funds as Asset Owners)
The Company holds regular meetings of the Pension Asset Management Committee consisting of Chief Human Resource Officer, Chief Financial Officer, General Manager of Finance Department, and General Manager of Human Resources Department, Labor Relations Group Leader and Financial Planning Group Leader, representatives of labor unions, etc., and the Committee listens to the opinions and reports of multiple financial institutions with expertise and manages the investment assets by determining the asset portfolio, management policy, and investment products and reviewing asset allocation as appropriate. When managing the investment assets, we properly manage conflict of interest between the beneficiaries of the pension plan and the Company.
The secretariat of the Pension Asset Management Committee executes asset management in accordance with the policy determined by the Pension Asset Management Committee and reports the results to the Committee. In this way, the Company monitors the performance of its asset management.
Persons in the department in charge have been assigned to the secretariat of the Pension Asset Management Committee. They have acquired specialized knowledge by attending seminars conducted by specialized organizations including multiple financial institutions with expertise and other consulting firms.
We have entrusted the management of our pension assets to major financial institutions in a diversified manner, all of which have accepted Japan's Stewardship Code.

[Supplementary Principle 3.1.3] (Sustainability Initiatives)

1. Sustainability initiatives

The Company Group recognizes ESG initiatives as an important management issue.

In FY2020, we established the Sustainability Committee and have been operating it continuously since. Chaired by a Director, the committee forms the foundation for promoting sustainability companywide. Giving top priority to climate change measures in the supply chain, the Company is working to overcome challenges by sharing sustainability issues and reducing environmental impacts companywide in everything from procurement to production, logistics, and sales. Considering that the environmental initiative in raw materials procurement is particularly important, we have strengthened the driving force for ESG by combining the Environmental Subcommittee and the Sustainable Procurement Subcommittee, and restructured it as the Sustainable Procurement and Environmental Subcommittee in 2022, thereby establishing a system that is more in line with our business model. Currently, in addition to this subcommittee, three other subcommittees, namely, the Human Rights Subcommittee, the Sustainable Product Development Subcommittee, and the Human Capital Subcommittee, which was added in 2023, promote initiatives, namely, setting targets for each issue and formulating and implementing concrete action plans. In FY2025, we further strengthened our efforts to formulate and review human resource strategies that align with management and business strategies, constructively dissolved the Human Capital Subcommittee to bolster the effectiveness of the strategies, and established the Human Resources Committee as an advisory body for the Executive Committee. Through human resource development and engagement improvement, we will provide an environment that not only maximizes individuals' abilities for creation but also draws out their skills and experience to the maximum extent.

Additionally, in November 2020, the Company announced its endorsement of the recommendations of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) and joined the TCFD Consortium. The working groups under each committee are striving to improve disclosures of information related to climate change based on the TCFD recommendations.

2. Investing in human resources
In the Sixth Medium-Term Business Plan, we will build human resources, organizations, and culture to "Work together to achieve high targets and exceed expectations" in order to appropriately respond to the rapidly changing external environment and achieve fundamental changes for the next era.
In March 2023, toward the realization of our corporate vision, "Joy for Life," we formulated the "Human Resources Policies," which elaborate the vision that we aim at through our human capital management. Furthermore, in April 2025, we established the Human Resources Committee and formulated human resources strategies that align with management and business strategies, while at the same time we bolstered the effectiveness of these strategies. By doing so, we will shift the emphasis of personnel management from human resources management to human capital management to maximize individuals' abilities for creation, and aim to realize a work environment to encourage diverse human resources to take on challenges and grow, as well as develop individuals with strength in sustainability and let those individuals with the strength play their active role as a team with enhanced engagement.

<Human Resources Policies>
- We will protect physical and mental health of our employees and safety at a workplace. We also ensure a sound work environment where human rights are respected and no discrimination is tolerated.
- We will create a "workplace which is comfortable and motivating" for our diverse human resources by developing a system and work environment to enable them utilize their unique character and skills to the maximum.
- We will support those who are willing to "take on challenges" and "grow themselves" and help their autonomous challenges and growth. With these initiatives, we will promote the cycle of the development of individuals with strength in sustainability and their active role as a team with enhanced engagement, namely integration of strong individuals.

We believe that the following are main issues that should be addressed to realize "human resources and an organization that are willing to take on challenges and grow" and "a comfortable workplace as well as physical and mental health for diverse human resources."
- Secure human resources in accordance with our strategy, considering the factors such as high expertise and foreign nationality
- Develop autonomous human resources who will think of various issues as their own problems and are willing to take on challenges and grow thorough such experience
- Retain talented people that drive our growth
- Vitalize job rotation as well as implement accelerated promotion and relocation based on a merit system
- Build the organizational structure and improve organizational capabilities in accordance with our strategy
- Demonstrate the leadership of the management to drive changes
- Build culture to encourage employees to take on challenges and grow, including developing the system for this initiative
- Realize environment and culture where diverse human resources can work comfortably and play their active roles
- Reduce the physical and mental load, and eliminate workplace accidents, occupational incidents, etc.

3. Investment in intellectual property
Investment in intellectual property is essential for us to strengthen our foundation for the future, which is the goal of the Sixth Medium-Term Business Plan.
Traditionally, the Company Group has sought to secure intellectual property rights through its activities in research and development, production, and proposals to customers, and enhance value of intellectual property. With the focus on securing technology for manufacturing Sustainable Aviation Fuel (SAF) materials, technology for oils and fats with cooking functionality such as long-lasting effects and requiring less oil for deep-frying, "Oishisa Design" technology including texture control technology using starch materials, and even technology to ensure "good taste, health, and low burden," including containers with reduced plastic, in addition to the Company Group's core technology of the manufacturing technology for edible oils and fats, we have been promoting the following four initiatives.
(1) Protection of the Company's technologies with intellectual property rights
We actively file patent applications for inventions made from our research and development and inventions which are important under the Company's business strategy, in order to acquire intellectual property rights. We also protect products which utilize trademarks and designs and enhance the value of brands, in an active manner. Furthermore, we appropriately deal with infringements of rights by others in accordance with relevant laws and regulations.
(2) Support for formulation of the intellectual property strategy and formulation of business and research strategies
We collect, analyze, and evaluate patent information, and our development department and Intellectual Property Department collaborate to utilize IP landscaping methodologies to support the formulation of the intellectual property strategy and formulation of business and research strategies by utilizing the IP landscape method.
(3) Prevention of risks related to infringements of rights of others.
In order to respect the intellectual property of third parties, we make a rigorous examination before launching products to avoid infringements of rights of others.
(4) Education and enhancement of awareness regarding intellectual property rights
We conduct basic and follow-up training for younger employees, patent research seminars for mid-career employees in the departments related to development, information exchange meetings regarding trademarks for employees including the ones in operational departments, and basic and other types of training on intellectual property and trademarks for all employees. In addition, we promote education and enhancement of awareness regarding intellectual property rights by encouraging employees to proactively participate in external courses for patents.
As a result of these efforts, on a non-consolidated basis, we held 265 patents, 370 trademarks, and 31 designs in Japan as of the end of FY2025. We also came in eighth place in the III-5 Food Chemistry Category in the number of patents registered by segment in the Patent Administration Annual Report 2025 (published by the Japan Patent Agency) and 15th in the food manufacturing category of the Japio-SDGs Patent Index announced by the Japan Patent Information Organization (Japio) (for Japanese Unexamined Patent Publications for 2024 announced by Japio in May 2025). Furthermore, we were placed 40th for PCT international applications and 35th for applications in Japan in yearly SDGs Corporate Ranking for applications in 2023 with respect to Goal 2: Zero Hunger (announced by Japio in February 2026). As demonstrated by the above, we have contributed to solve SDGs related social issues.

We will continue to discuss investment items at meetings of the Board of Directors and other bodies.

On the other hand, we recognize that there are items that need to improve further in the future.

Explanation of Actions UPDATED

In the Sixth Medium-Term Business Plan "Transforming for Growth," which ends in FY2026, the Company had set financial KPIs of ROE of 8% and ROIC of 5% to strengthen the foundations for its growth, and had been aiming to achieve its goal through the implementation of various measures, including reforming the business portfolio, improving capital efficiency, and providing stable shareholder returns.
However, in FY2025, we faced changes in the business environment that were much more severe than anticipated, such as the decline in meal value in conjunction with the increasing demand for biofuel and the rise in logistics and labor costs, which prevented us from strengthening our profitability in the oils/fats business and monetizing new and overseas businesses as planned. Thus, the initial targets of the Sixth Medium-Term Business Plan are expected to remain unmet. In FY2026, we intend to examine and prepare priority measures for the next Medium-Term Business Plan, including further improving our core profitability and reviewing our business portfolio, to fortify the Company to enable sustained growth.
For progress on the Sixth Medium-Term Business Plan, including progress on the financial KPIs, please refer to FYE 3/2026 Full Year Financial Highlights (April 1, 2025 – March 31, 2026) posted on our website for the details.

Policy on Determining Remuneration Amounts and Calculation Methods UPDATED	Established

Disclosure of Policy on Determining Remuneration Amounts and Calculation Methods

1. Basic Policy
The Company's director remuneration system is designed to clarify the responsibility of directors for the improvement of the Company's performance and corporate value, and to increase motivation and raise morale for the improvement of the performance and corporate value.
The remuneration of Audit & Supervisory Board Members is determined by deliberation of the Audit & Supervisory Board Members based on the resolution of a General Meeting of Shareholders.

2. Composition of remuneration
The Director remuneration consists of fixed remuneration and performance-based remuneration. Performance-based remuneration is made up of bonus payments and share-based remuneration and serves as both short-term as well as long-term incentives toward the improvement of the performance and corporate value. The calculation of performance-based remuneration takes into consideration company-wide performance evaluations and individual performance evaluations, and the remuneration is calculated based on the ratio of performance evaluations according to position and role.

The higher the position of the officer, the greater the proportion of performance-based remuneration that is set, such that the higher the position, the more significant are the expected outcomes and the greater is the responsibility for company performance. The proportion of performance-based remuneration of the Directors (excluding non-executive Directors and Outside Directors) will fluctuate within a range of 0 to 73%. Non-executive Directors, Outside Directors receive, and Audit & Supervisory Board Members only fixed remuneration.

The fixed remuneration of Directors consists of execution's portion determined with respect to execution of duties according to position, the Director's portion determined with respect to basic responsibility as Director, and representative authority's portion determined with respect to responsibility for representative authority, and the remuneration is calculated based on the ratio of performance evaluations according to position. The fixed remuneration of Directors also includes the chairperson's portion determined with respect to the responsibilities of each chairperson of the Board of Directors, the Nomination Advisory Committee, and the Remuneration Advisory Committee.
Remuneration levels are benchmarked against peer companies with similar net sales and operating profit based on data from outside research firms as an objective indicator so that the total remuneration is equivalent to the 50th to 75th percentile once the Medium-Term Business Plan budget is achieved while maintaining a minimum level equivalent to the 25th percentile level. The remuneration of Audit & Supervisory Board Members is determined by deliberation of the Audit & Supervisory Board Members within the maximum amount resolved by the General Meeting of Shareholders.

For the details of the executive remuneration system for Directors, please refer to "Section 4. Status of the Submitting Company, 4. Corporate Governance, (4) Remuneration, etc., for Officers" in the 24th Securities Report 00.pdf (in Japanese).

[Fixed remuneration (monthly remuneration)]
As consideration for the "expectations" entailed by the roles and duties of each director, a fixed monthly amount has been set depending on the position and paid each month.
The fixed remuneration consists of execution's portion determined with respect to execution of duties according to position, the Director's portion determined with respect to basic responsibility as Director, the representative authority's portion determined with respect to responsibility for representative authority, and the chairperson's portion determined with respect to the responsibilities of the chairperson of the Board of Directors, each Advisory Committee, and the Remuneration Advisory Committee.
The remuneration of Audit & Supervisory Board Members is determined by deliberation of the Audit & Supervisory Board.

[Bonuses (short-term incentives)]
As consideration for the achievement of business performance for each year, bonuses are determined and paid based on the level of achievement of company-wide performance and individual performance targets. When making contributions to the improvement of business performance and corporate value, the basic indicator to evaluate company-wide performance comprises consolidated operating profit.
Calculation method of bonus = a) × [b) × d) + c) × d] (varies in the range of 0% to 200%).
a) Amount to be paid by position according to the budgeted amount of consolidated operating profit at the beginning of the year
b) Rate of achievement of company-wide performance target compared to the budgeted amount of operating profit at the beginning of the year (varies from 0% to 200%)
c) Rate of achievement of commitment targets (implementation status of initiatives that the Company focuses on, and to which the executives themselves are especially committed) (varies from 0% to 200%)
d) Distribution by position (company-wide performance targets: 80% for Representative Director, President & CEO and 70% for Director and Executive Officer; commitment targets: 20% for Representative Director, President & CEO and 30% for Director and Executive Officer)
In the event quality issues, serious accidents, or scandals arise, the determined amount of the payment may be reduced.

[Share-based remuneration (long-term incentives)]
As consideration for the achievement of medium- to long-term company-wide performance targets, the shares of the Company are paid to director who were in office during the performance-evaluation period on a fiscal year basis during the pre-determined performance-evaluation period, in our efforts to share value with the shareholders and strengthen officers' motivation to improve corporate value and solidarity with the shareholders.

The basic indicators used to evaluate company-wide performance targets are consolidated operating profit, ROIC, ROE, and EPS, which are equally weighted at 25%, in order to contribute to the improvement of business performance and corporate value.
Share-based remuneration (long-term incentives) will be paid to upon retirement of officers.
It was resolved that in the event of any kind of fraudulent act or other irregularity during the term of office, the benefits will be reduced or not be paid, and that even after receiving the benefits and leaving office, the Company will be able to request the return of money of economic value equivalent to the shares and money received in the event of any of the matters stipulated in the Rules for the Payment of Shares to Officers.
Calculation method of share-based remuneration = a) × b) (varies in the range of 0% to 150%)
a) Base points awarded by position (1 point equals 1 share)
b) Rate of achievement of each indicator to the target of the Medium-Term Business Plan in the final year (varies from 0% to 200%)

3. Targets and results of performance-based remuneration indices for FY2025
Please refer to "Section 4. Status of the Submitting Company, 4. Corporate Governance, (4) Remuneration, etc., for Officers" in the 24th Securities Report.
