Supplementary Explanation Regarding Dividend Forecast and Shareholder Return Policy for the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2027

Remixpoint, inc. (the “Company”) hereby provides the following supplementary explanation regarding the “Notice of Dividend Forecast and Shareholder Return Policy (Special Dividend) for the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2027” (the “Disclosure”) announced on June 18, 2026, to facilitate a better understanding among our shareholders and investors.

In the Disclosure, the Company clarified its policy to pay a year-end dividend of 3.00 yen per share as an ordinary dividend for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2027, positioning it as the base for stable shareholder returns.

In addition, the Company will continuously consider further enhancing shareholder returns, including an increase in the ordinary dividend, if the performance of our core business exceeds expectations. This consideration will be made after comprehensively taking into account the profit level from business growth, cash flows, financial condition, distributable amount under the Companies Act, and funds required for future growth investments.

Furthermore, as part of the Digital Asset Management Business, the Company holds and manages BTC, and increases in the BTC price may contribute to our performance and financial condition.

This approach to special dividends aims to ensure that the benefits of such financial upside are shared with our shareholders rather than being retained solely by the Company, in the event that our performance becomes exceptionally strong due to factors such as a rise in the BTC price.

Specifically, this additional shareholder return policy means that while maintaining the 3.00-yen ordinary dividend as a stable base, the Company will consider a special dividend on top of it when performance is exceptionally strong.

The Company positions shareholder returns as one of its key management priorities. The policy in the Disclosure clearly demonstrates our commitment to returning the fruits of performance expansion to our shareholders, while balancing growth investments with shareholder returns.

We will continue to sincerely listen to the opinions of our shareholders and pursue a well-balanced combination of enhancing corporate value, improving capital efficiency, and strengthening shareholder returns.

Please note that this supplementary explanation is intended solely to supplement the content of the Disclosure and does not constitute a new revision to the dividend forecast at this time. The implementation of dividends and their specific amounts will be determined following the necessary corporate resolutions in accordance with the Companies Act, other relevant laws and regulations, and the Company’s Articles of Incorporation. The Company will promptly disclose any matters requiring disclosure in accordance with the timely disclosure rules of the Tokyo Stock Exchange.
