Notice of Commencement of Research Coverage on Our Shares by ENVALITH

Japan System Techniques Co., Ltd. (TSE: 4323, President and CEO: Taku Hirabayashi; hereinafter referred to as "the Company") hereby announces that ENVALITH Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as "ENVALITH") has commenced research coverage on the Company's shares.

ENVALITH is an independent equity research firm that provides company research reports in three languages (Japanese, English, and Chinese [Simplified and Traditional]) and disseminates information to institutional and retail investors both in Japan and overseas. Its research reports are distributed globally via major international financial data platforms—including Bloomberg, FactSet, Dow Jones Factiva, AlphaSense, and LSEG (Refinitiv)—as well as through major domestic financial information services and various media outlets.

Through the initiation of this coverage, objective and neutral third-party analysis of the Company's business operations, growth strategies, and financial performance will be made broadly available to investors worldwide.

1. Background and Objective

The commencement of this third-party research coverage is part of our initiatives to enhance IR activities and information disclosure for a wide range of domestic and international investors. It aims to achieve the following:

- Enhancing Information Disclosure: Providing rich, objective analysis through third-party corporate evaluations.
- Raising Awareness: Increasing visibility among both institutional and retail investors globally.
- Promoting Fair Share Price & Corporate Value: Expanding opportunities for investor dialogue to foster appropriate share price formation and enhance corporate value.
- Deepening Understanding: Promoting a clearer understanding of the Company’s medium- to long-term growth strategy and intrinsic corporate value.

The Company will continue to drive constructive dialogue with shareholders and investors through proactive IR activities, striving to continuously enhance corporate value.
