2. Reason

The Company regards the return of profits to shareholders as one of our most important management policies. Our basic policy is to generate profits through our business activities by making effective use of the capital entrusted to us by our shareholders, while keeping in mind the need to enhance our internal reserves to provide for the stability and further expansion of our business base. At the same time, we will consider our financial position, profit level, and other factors. We will make it our basic policy to provide continuous, stable, and timely profit distribution, aiming for stable dividends.

As stated in the "Notice Regarding Revision of Full-Year Financial Results Forecast and Dividend Forecast" published on May 12, 2026, in light of this policy and business performance, the Company has decided to pay a year-end dividend of 28 yen per share for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2026. Combined with the interim dividend of 22 yen per share, the annual dividend will be 50 yen per share, an increase of 10 yen per share from the previous fiscal year.

Regarding dividends for the next fiscal year, taking into account earnings forecasts, financial condition, funding requirements related to capital investment, and other factors in a comprehensive manner, the Company plans to maintain stable dividends and forecasts an annual dividend of 50 yen per share, unchanged from the previous fiscal year.
