Envalith Co., Ltd. to Initiate Research Coverage of J-Pharma

J-Pharma Co., Ltd. (Head Office: Minato-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Masuhiro Yoshitake; hereinafter “J-Pharma” or the “Company”) announces that Envalith Co., Ltd. (“Envalith”) will initiate research coverage of J-Pharma.

As part of this initiative, an interview with J-Pharma’s Chief Financial Officer (CFO) Yutaka Fujimoto has also been published on Envalith’s website.

This initiative is part of J-Pharma’s efforts to expand its investor relations activities and provide institutional and individual investors in Japan and overseas with a better understanding of its business, development pipeline, and medium- to long-term growth strategy.

■ Background and Objectives

To help investors understand a drug discovery company’s business and growth potential, J-Pharma believes it is important to clearly explain the characteristics of its drug candidates, the unmet medical needs in their target indications, and its commercialization strategy, alongside progress in research and development.

Through Envalith’s research, J-Pharma aims to complement its own communications with an external research firm’s perspective on its business and growth strategy, and to support more informed dialogue with a broader range of investors in Japan and overseas.

■ About ENVALITH

ENVALITH is an independent equity research firm that provides company research reports in three languages: Japanese, English, and Chinese (Simplified and Traditional). Its reports are distributed to institutional and individual investors in Japan and overseas through global financial information platforms, domestic financial information services, and various media outlets.

■ CFO Interview and Research Reports

An interview with J-Pharma's CFO, conducted on October 14, 2026, has been published on Envalith's website. We invite investors to read the interview to gain a deeper understanding of J-Pharma.
