Notice Concerning Revision of Dividend Forecasts (Dividend Increase)

Nippon Electric Glass Co., Ltd. (the "Company") hereby announces that we have revised the year-end dividend forecasts for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025 (January 1 to December 31, 2025) announced on February 5, 2025, as follows.

1. Details of the revision

(Yen)

	Annual dividends
	Second quarter-end	Fiscal-year end	Total
Previous forecasts (Announced on February 5, 2025)	70.00	75.00	145.00
Revised forecasts		80.00	150.00
Actual results for the current fiscal year	70.00
Actual results for the previous fiscal year (Fiscal year ended December 31, 2024)	65.00	65.00	130.00

2. Reason for the revision of the dividend forecast

Regarding the return of profits to shareholders, the Company's basic policy is to continue to pay stable dividends over the long term without being significantly affected by fluctuations in business performance. We will manage our balance sheet by taking into account financial stability and capital efficiency, and strive to enhance shareholder returns while securing internal reserves for future growth. Under the Medium-term Business Plan "EGP2028," the Company aims for a dividend on equity ratio (DOE, total dividends divided by shareholders' equity) of 3% for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2028. The Company's basic policy is to maintain a stable dividend and to expand dividends in light of business performance, financial position, investments for growth, and other factors.

In consideration of the operating results and financial position for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025 announced today, the Company has decided to increase the year-end dividend by 5 yen to 80 yen per share. As a result, the annual dividend for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025 will be 150 yen per share, an increase of 20 yen from the previous fiscal year.
