Notice of the Opening of the Investor Question Box Enhancing IR via note to Meet Investors' Information Needs

We are pleased to announce that we have launched an initiative to answer questions using note's new feature, "note Question Box (β)," to deepen dialogue with our shareholders and investors.

Background of Opening the Question Box

To date, we have strived to provide easy-to-understand information to shareholders and investors. Our efforts have included online streaming of financial results briefings, participating in events for individual investors, and publishing financial commentary articles and Monthly Reports on note.

Under these circumstances, note last month released "note Question Box (β)," a feature that allows users to receive questions from readers and publish the answers. To strengthen two-way communication with shareholders and investors using this feature, we have opened a question box on our official note IR account.

By accepting a wide range of questions, we can better align our IR activities with what investors want to know. Furthermore, we believe that making public the answers to questions that were previously answered individually is preferable from the perspective of fair disclosure.

We hope you will take this opportunity to feel free to send us your questions.

How to Use "note Question Box (β)"

Please access the question box from the URL below to submit your questions. Even if you do not have a note account, you can submit questions anonymously. In connection with the opening, we have posted answers to several frequently asked questions, so please feel free to take a look.

Answering Policy

All questions and comments received will be used as reference for our future IR activities. We will answer questions from time to time. However, please note that we may not be able to answer all questions, as we may combine questions with similar intents or prioritize themes that appear to be of particularly high interest.

To maintain fair disclosure and healthy dialogue, we will refrain from answering the following types of questions:

- Questions regarding unannounced financial results or plans (from the perspective of insider trading regulations)
- Questions directly asking for investment advice, such as "Should I buy?"
- Questions involving personal information, or containing attacks, slander, or defamation against specific individuals

In addition, for inquiries that require individual responses, such as those regarding shareholder benefits, please continue to contact the IR Inquiry Desk (<https://ir.note.jp/inquiry>) as before.

We believe that dialogue with investors is the starting point for further growth. We will continue to actively engage in IR activities unique to our company and strive to increase corporate value over the medium to long term.

*The answering policy and operation methods are subject to change depending on future circumstances.

*The publication of answers is for informational purposes only and is not intended to solicit investment. Please make investment decisions based on your own judgment.

note

note is a media platform where creators post text, images, audio, and videos, and users can enjoy and support that content. We value a safe atmosphere and diversity so that everyone can enjoy and continue creating. Individuals and corporations mingle, expanding opportunities to find things they like and meet interesting people. The service launched in April 2014, and approximately 75.20 million works have been created. The number of members has reached 11.78 million (as of February 2026).
