Store Concept	The Takaoka Store is located in the highly popular Izumi–Takaoka district in eastern Nagoya. It is the 10th KeePer LABO store in Nagoya City and the 32nd store in Aichi Prefecture. The Takaoka Store is the first KeePer LABO to be opened on the ground floor of a commercial building. The facility was renovated from a former Mitsubishi Motors dealership and features five dedicated coating bays, including one exclusive TREX Booth equipped with the specialized environment required for TREX KeePer applications, as well as a washing and finishing area that can accommodate three to four vehicles. If this store format proves successful, it will create a new option for future KeePer LABO store development. The customer lounge is also designed to make waiting time more productive and enjoyable. It features table seating suitable for working remotely, as well as a professional-grade racing simulator—the same type used by professional racing drivers for training—allowing customers to make the most of their time while their vehicle is being serviced.
