Notice Regarding the Resumption of Website Access Following Measures to Address a PHP Vulnerability

As announced in our notice dated October 23, 2026, entitled "Notice of Temporary Website Suspension and Emergency Maintenance Due to a PHP Vulnerability," we temporarily suspended access to our website and conducted emergency maintenance as a precautionary measure in response to a critical vulnerability affecting the PHP programming language.

We have now completed the necessary security measures and operational checks and confirmed that our website can be safely reopened. Accordingly, access to our entire website has been restored. As of the date of this notice, we have not identified any unauthorized access, data breaches, or other incidents resulting from this matter.

We sincerely apologize to all users of our website for any inconvenience and concern caused by the temporary suspension. We will continue to take appropriate measures to ensure information security.
