The Certified Health & Productivity Management Outstanding Organizations Recognition Program is an award system certified by the Nippon Kenko Kaigi with the aim of creating an environment in which corporations, including large enterprises and small and medium-sized companies that are particularly excellent in practicing health and productivity management, can be "visualized" and socially evaluated by employees, job seekers, related companies, and financial institutions.

Based on its Health & Productivity Management Declaration, the Company will strive to realize its mission of "Provide new value for Japan's tomorrow through advanced technology" and to enhance corporate value and contribute to society by fostering challenge and growth through providing an environment where employees can work with both physical and mental health and peace of mind.

[About Japaniace]
Japaniace, under the mission of "Provide new value for Japan's tomorrow through advanced technology," operates an "Advanced Engineering Business" that provides services in the form of on-site development support and contract development to the IT and telecommunications industries as well as the manufacturing industry.
